Presbyterian Youth Triennium

Triennium is back! After a 6-year hiatus, our denomination is ready to welcome back thousands of high school aged youth and their adult leaders to Louisville, Kentucky, for four days of worship, recreation, Bible study, outreach, and faith formation. This will happen July 28-31, 2025. It is open to all youth, incoming 9th graders though outgoing 12th-graders. Our local presbytery is excited to send a delegation from California. Our teens have the opportunity to join other local youth, and to meet kids from all over the country!

There is a Zoom meeting scheduled for Wednesday, October 23, at 7:15pm, for local youth and parents/guardians to find out more about this incredible event. Young people who have participated in Triennium previously will be on the meeting, offering their impressions and experiences. If you would like to listen in on this "Try Triennium" meeting, please contact Lori Schlunegger for the link. Also check out more information at the Triennium website: <https://presbyterianyouthtriennium.org/>.

It's Trunk or Treat time again!!

Aren't you excited?

Yes, it's October and that means Trinity will be hosting lots of ghosts and goblins, over 700 last year, from the neighborhood on the 31st. We are hoping you are able to help by donating wrapped candy, a bag a week if you can. The other really, really important, or should we say vital thing we need is people being willing to offer up their decorated trunks to help us pass out candy. If you don't have a trunk, we can set up a table for you to decorate. Trunk or Treat is a very fun event that the church and neighborhood children so appreciate every year. Your candy donations can be dropped off at the church office during the week, or brought directly to church service on Sunday morning and dropped into our fun Trunk or Treat basket, or clothes hamper if you're being technical. Please sign up on our giant sheet in the Narthex, or go to <https://www.signupgenius.com/go/30E084DA5AA22A2F58-44675700-trinity#/>. We hope we can count on you to help make this year the best ever!

Trunk or Treat is coming soon, and 700 children will be in our church parking lot, looking for candy! Please help us prepare by donating a bag of wrapped Halloween candy each Sunday in October. The candy hamper will be in the Narthex, beginning October 1. Be on the lookout for the sign-up sheet as well, and be thinking about how you could decorate your car this year!

The journey begins ... Part 3

In 1949, West Acres Presbyterian had seen its membership swell to 83. The church had also seen the blueprints for Interstate 80, and it didn't look good.

The new freeway was going to sit less than 100 feet from the church's location, which didn't bode well for the shaky G.I. chapel or any building that would follow it. With that in mind, the present plot of land at 1500 Park Blvd. was purchased, and a serious drive began to raise money for a permanent structure.

The brochure mailed from Joe Broadley's office including artist's conceptions of what the new church would look like, and also a proposed blueprint. The present sanctuary was originally designed to be a small side chapel, with the real sanctuary—featuring seating for 320—scheduled to be built at a later stage. The plans also called for classrooms, a sizable fellowship hall, a tower, a bride's room and a ladies' parlor, all encircling a garden court.

A good many of these features never quite materialized, of course, but the church did manage to raise enough funds for the initial stage of construction. Ground was broken at the Park Blvd. location on April 6, 1952—just weeks before Rev. Broadley had to leave for a stint as Navy chaplain.

Dr. Peter Bercovitz had taken over as pastor by the time the new building became inhabitable. The church's new home consisted of the present sanctuary, a pastor's study, a kitchen, two classrooms and two restrooms.

Edith Harrison, a soprano in the choir, is generally credited with submitting the name "Trinity" for the church. In March of 1955, her suggestion became reality with the dedication of the new building.

The bulk of the old G.I. chapel still stands, used as a storage shed by the Washington Unified School District.
